Historical Note

Hendricks County was officially organized by an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana on December 20, 1823. Hendricks was the fifty-first county to be organized in the state and was named after Indiana's third governor, William Hendricks. The first settlers arrived in 1820 and by 1824 the population numbered around 1000. Hendricks County is one of the fastest-growing counties in the state and by 2010 the population numbered over 145,000.
